SHAME ON CHAUTAUQUA

A SAMPLE OF POLITICS IN A RE-PUBLICAN ROTTEN BOROUGH.

Evidence of Attempted Bribery Produced in Open Court.

The Disgracoful State of Things Brough to Light by the Trial of Two Political Workers - A Nomination Being Equivalent to Election, the Money Is Spent on Delegates-A Deal Which Is Expected to Re-sleet Sounter Vodder, Who Is New in Chicago Profiting by T. C. Platt's Quiet Tip.

JAMESTOWN, May 28. -Out in Indiana a man is said to be politically honest when he "stays bought." It is no sin to trade and barter or to buy and sell your vote as a delerate or a plain, ordinary citizen; the crime is in selling out to both sides. They have no such definition here in Chautauqua County, because they have only recently heard of one of their delegates who, unlike everybody else. was not on sale to the latest bidder at the highest price. He is George C. Frissell, of Kiantone, a delegate to the convention which nominated Egbert E. Woodbury for the Assembly a year ago. In Chautauqua, with a normal Republican najority of between 2,000 and 3,000. there is not much bribery at the polls. for a Republican nomination is equivalent to an election. The crooked work is done in the getting of the nomination. Just now the onblican press of the county is raising a cry for clean primaries, but not with any great hope of success. They are asking for a reform in the manner of nominating candidates, for, as the Predonia Censor says, "the great point is to get rid of the trading in delegates." The same newspaper adds, hopelessly: "But we don't expect to see any reform adopted. Every politicis we have met is ag'in' it, and they run the One of the Mest Desperate and Danger. County Committee." The Journal. of this ous Bandits on the Pacific Count. city, has more hope, but admits that it is likely to be delayed.

All this talk is brought out by the remarkable trial just concluded of William It.

Kelley and Melvin Taylor on the charge of years in the penitentiary. Inspector Rathhaving attempted to bribe George C. Frissell, a delegate to the Assembly Convention in the Second District. George Towne, who had been an Assemblyman for three terms, was trying for another season in Albany. He had stuck with the Platt crowd in the Assembly, and so a big party in the county were against him. When the Kiantone delegates were elected it was understood that they were for Woodbury, so Towne Assembly, and so a big party in the county were against him. When the Kiantone delegates were elected it was understood that they were for Woodbury, so Towne and his friends sent Kelley and Taylor over to "see them." It was a drive of nearly forty miles, but they made it one night and called Frissell out of his bed at 2 o'clock in the morning. They asked him if he couldn' be induced to step aside and permit some one to be substituted in his place in the Convention. The witness tells the rest of the story this way;

"Taylor whispered in my ear, saying:
"There's an even hundred in this."

"He also said that they all do this kind of work; that it starts with the politicians in New York and extends all through the State. Taylor also asked:

"Who am I ?"

State authorities Nov. 24, 1888, confessed to the robbery, pleaded guilty under an arrangement with the local officers, made restitution of the montheys stolen from the mails, and for the robbery of Dr. Hurley was sentenced to the peniteuitary for twelve years by the State courts.

After serving about two years he was pardioned by the Guovernor of Arizona and immediately went to California. where he commenced his vocation of robbing stages. On March 0, 1890, he made an attempt to rob the stage near Reidding, in Shasta County. Cal., and severely wounded the held up the stage in that neighborhood and succeeded in getting the express treasure, but not the mail.

He also said that they all do this kind of work; that it starts with the politicians in New York and extends all through the State. Taylor also asked:

"Who am I ?"

' Who am I 7'

" Your name is pumpkins, I said. He also wanted to know if I knew the man who was with him. I told him it was Mr. Kelley. I refused his offer. Mr. Taylor said when starting to leave:

' Well, there's no harm done. You may change your mind. If you do, you will find me at the Hotel Everett in Jamestown." On the cross-examination the witness admitted that in subsequent conversation of the insolvent bank yesterday, to recover

Do one doubts. What it is, however, none but those on the inside of Republican politics can lell. It may be meant to have some influence on the deal that is said to have been made to sond Senator Vedder hack to Albany. Vedder is better known in New York now than he is in his Sonatoras expends the weekly recess at the Mirray Hill Motel. doubtless in the interests of the people at this end of the State. He expected to have so rocky time with his fences, but they are all in good shade now and he and they are all in good shade now and he and they are all in good shade now and he and they are all in good shade now and he and the body there at the same time he told them to vote against having the World's Fair in New York City.

This deal has been made with Fred Nixon. The learness with Towns and was a candidate last year. This year Nixon decided that how would be the right man having a state of the state of the same of the state of the state of the state of the same of the state of the sta gation of the rottenness of Republican primaries?

Over in Cattarangus Connty Assemblyman Whipple is out as a candidate once more, and he will probably set the nomination. He ham't yet begun his canvass for the Speakership. Last vear he had it well under way by this time, but the Democratic vic-tory somewhat spoiled his plans. In his letter the Lieutenant says that upor arriving at San Carlos he at once sent out runners to the different Indian camps along the Gila and San Carlos rivers, giving the kind (young, strong and active) and numthose who desired to enlist to report imme diately for examination, as he proposed to WASHINGTON, May 28,-Chief Inspector

The Lieutenant continues:

Most of the men enlisted by me are of good size and are well proportioned, and I think are as line a set of young men as were ever recruited for the army, for I am satisfied that if properly handled and treated with kindness they will in time make superb soldiers.

"I left San Carlos May 14, 1891, the day after I completed the enlistment and reached this post to-day, the 21st inst. without the slightest trouble of any kind. The fact is, these men are natural-born soldiers, and I respect their shifting wery much indeed.

"These men gave no trouble whatever on the road. They were obedient and always on hand, and I am simply delighted with them, and my only regret is that I have to turn them over to another officer to command, for I am satisfied their future is a bright one if only handled properly in the start.

bright one if only make an advantage to have Indians serve the first year of their enlistment away from their reservation; first, because they are very sensitive to ridicule, especially from among their own people, and then, too, there would be no chance of described. For they would never dream of descrition, for they would be no chance of descrition, for they would never dream of of descriting. For they would never dream of if allowed to serve in Arizona or New Mexico while zoing through the hardest part of their service. viz. the first year, they might conclude that they did not like it and go off in the bills. At the expiration of a year they would have found confidence in themselves, and would no doubt be able to fully appreciate what the Government is trying to do for them.
